

Abstract of the Disclosure

Methods are disclosed for generating a desired references to a sequence or series of possibly periodically-updated references to information available on a computer network, independently of the information source.

* *

End of Utility Patent Specification